

We're Gardeners, Just Like You!

Free Spring Seminars and Events 2020

Please call to register at 937-426-0861.

Saturday, March 7 10:00

Old Plants, New Plants, Hot Plants, Cool Plants!

The most exciting thing right now is explosion of houseplant lovers! Dan Johnson from Tri-State Foliage will be here to share the houseplants everyone should know about: whether because of their ease to grow or their WOW factor. Growing tips and troubleshooting, lots of time for questions. Call to register.

Saturday, March 14 10:00

The Easy and Essential Herb Garden

Everyone wants an herb garden: here's how to choose plants you'll actually use! Laura Richards, head herb grower at Millcreek Gardens will present their favorite and most popular herbs, growing and maintaining (so often overlooked) and popular uses of each herb. Please call to register.

Saturday, March 21 10:00

Succulent Design Workshop

Succulents remain one of the most popular plants for their ease of care and many sculptural forms. This hands on workshop will have you creating your own succulent art arrangement using mini clay pots, stones and a variety of succulents. They will make a unique decoration for a table, flowerbed, or as a gift! Cost per project is $34.99. Space is limited, so reservation by phone is required.

Saturday, March 28 10:00

Crops In Pots: No-Dig Vegetable Gardening

Love fresh picked veggies but not the commitment of a huge garden? Growing vegetables in containers is a great way to downsize or for new gardeners to get started. Rich Pearson, OSU Ext. Horticultural Program Asst. Will walk us through everything you need to know: which containers and soils are best, choosing the right varieties for containers, and maintaining your garden. You'll be enjoying fresh produce right outside your door from spring to fall! Please call to register.

Saturday, April 4 10:00

Made For The Shade: Perennials for A Challenging Environment

By popular demand, Pat Greeson from Natorp's Nurseries will be back at Knollwood to tackle the topic of gardening in shade, as well as dry environments and deer-resistant plants. Highlighting many perennials that can give thrive in these tough conditions and provide a beautiful, colorful, and multi-textured look. Call to register.

Garden Party Saturday, April 18 10:00

Breaking Out Of Your Garden Rut!

Do you find yourself on autopilot every year with a geranium, a dracaena spike, and some vinca vine in all of your pots (not that there's anything wrong with that)? There are so many cool annuals to use these days, Knollwood's John and Vickie will show you how to break out of your gardening rut with great new selections to spice up your containers and flower beds. Call to register.

Garden Party Sunday, April 19 11:00-3:00 Talk With An Expert:

Steve Blessing from Pond and Garden Depot (formerly Green Vista Water Gardens) will be here from 11:00-3:00 to answer questions about your water garden challenges and how to get your pond ready for the season. He can help with algae, equipment selection, plant options and more.

Christina Haffey from Cincinnati Zoo & Botanical Garden will also be here from 11:00-3:00 to talk to you about the Zoo's Pollen Nation project and creating your own pollinator garden to help reach their goal of 500 new pollinator gardens this year.

3766 Dayton Xenia Rd, Beavercreek, OH 45432

937-426-0861 www.KnollwoodGardens.com